

Omar Wohabe

Independent Board Member

Mr. Wohabe has been representing government, institutional and private clients from the Arab Gulf in connection with their investments and commercial transactions in the United States and elsewhere, and western clients in connection with their investment and commercial activities in the Gulf. Such investments are concentrated in private equity, venture capital and real estate, and are frequently made in conformity with Islamic Shari'ah. He serves as outside general counsel for certain of these clients, including in support of litigation, regulatory actions and compliance matters in the United States and other jurisdictions, and frequently acts for and through other law firms in support of the needs of his clients.

Before joining Wohabe Law Offices, Mr. Wohabe was associated with Shearman & Sterling (now A&O Shearman) in New York. Mr. Wohabe is a graduate of Williams College and Cornell Law School. Mr. Wohabe is a Saudi Arabian national, and is admitted to practice in New York and Saudi Arabia.
